Dhoon Glen is one of the most picturesque spots on the Isle of Man, and is situated on the eastern coast in the neighbourhood of Laxey. Down the entire length of this charming piece of Manx scenery, runs a dainty little stream, forming a series of falls, one of 60 feet and another of 70 feet in height, before finally losing itself in the sea. The name is derived from the Celtic Dhoo, meaning Black.

Dear Ethel.

I hope you are getting better quickly.

What kind of weather are you having? It is horrible here.

Why don't you write to us some time, we have not heard from you for years? With love from Elsie
